

Impacting Patient Recovery Through Specialty Services

Specialty services represent 20% of work comp medical spend, making it anything but ancillary.

Looking To Improve Your Specialty Program Results?

Five Questions To Ask Yourself

1. Are your needs being fulfilled in a timely manner?
2. Is an initial plan being outlined, providing ongoing communication and cost transparency along the way?
3. Is a clinical patient-centric process in place to deliver optimal outcomes, cost savings and superior service?
4. Are digital strategies used to streamline the process, provide full visibility and ensure nothing falls through the cracks?
5. If issues arise, are all team members and the injured individual kept in the know to avoid surprises?

When it comes to specialty services, adjusters and case managers should be kept "in the know" so they don't have to worry about whether services were arranged or not.
